
Walluf, september 2015

New distribution partner in Italy

Walluf, september 2015 – The VAN HEES GmbH and the Italian FLAM srl announced their distribution cooperation in Italy this September.

FLAM s.r.l. is based in Egna (BZ) in northern Italy and takes over the trade of the VAN HEES products in the Italian market. FLAM is a reliable partner for food manufacturers in artisanal & industry already since 2005.

The assortment extends from packaging materials, individual machines and production lines for the preparation, which further processing and packaging of meat, poultry and cheese products.

By extending their range with VAN HEES products, FLAMs customers will benefit in the future from high quality additives, marinades and spices made by VAN HEES.

"The development of the Italian market is a strategic pillar for the sales in Southern Europe." says Detlef Rupprecht of VAN HEES. "With FLAM we have found a partner with whom we can grow successfully in the Italian market".

under <http://www.flam-bz.com> You can obtain further information about FLAM srl

press release

about VAN HEES:

For more than 65 years, VAN HEES produces high-quality additives, spices, spice blends, convenience products and flavors for meat processing and finishing, which are equally used and appreciated in the artisanal and industry. Kurt van Hees recognize in the '40s, the benefits of food phosphates in meat processing.

As a pioneer in this field, he founded 1947 the VAN HEES GmbH and developed many well-known and patented quality additives. Innovative products and new technologies have been the main focus of VAN HEES since that time.

The medium-sized family business now employs over 400 people and distributes its products and solutions to national and international customers.

Today VAN HEES products are sold in more than 80 countries worldwide and their expertise in advanced meat processing is delivered and passed on through training and seminars to customers from around the world. Customer orientation, flexibility and reliability combined with innovative and responsible actions are the guidelines of VAN HEES - We know how.

Your contact:

Carsten Brinck

Tel: +49 6123 708 168

E-Mail: brinck@van-hees.com